Splashing Through the Years

Greenspun Jr. High

1998 - 1999

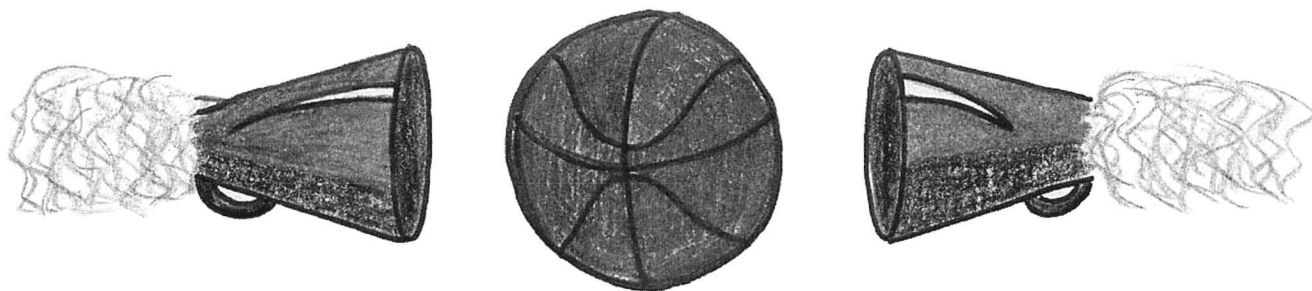

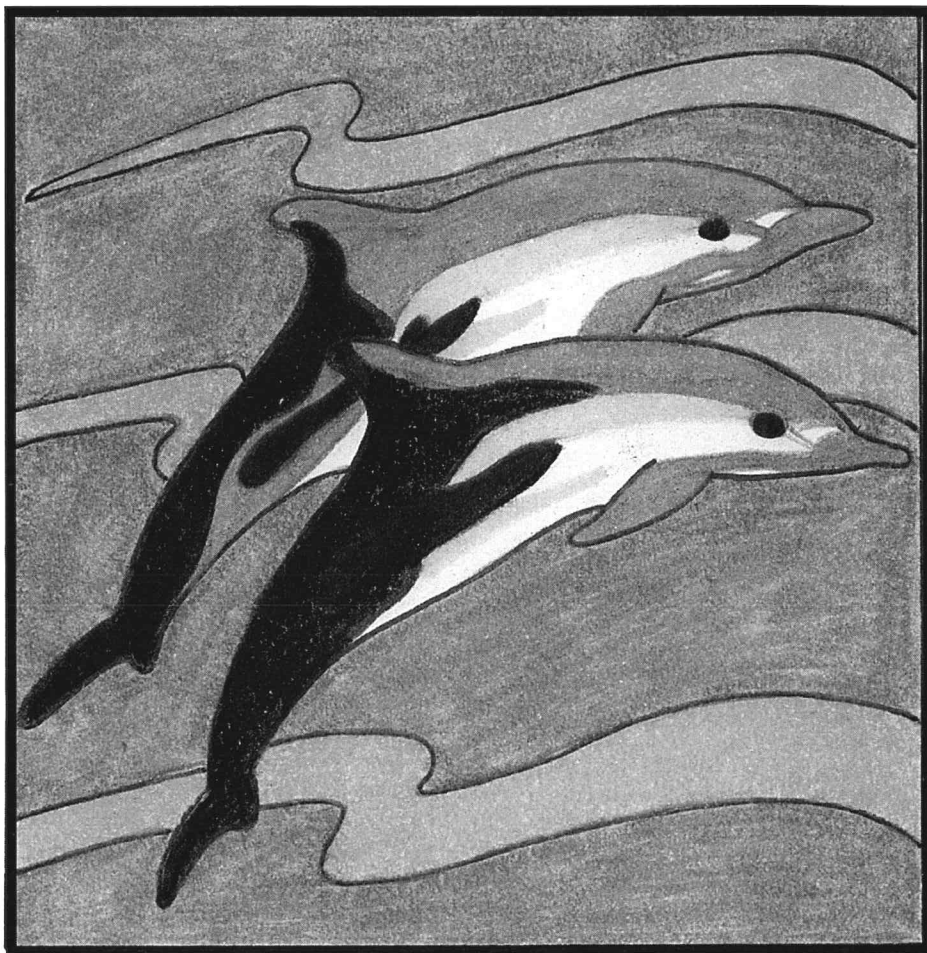

A black and white photograph of a hand holding a large, crumpled piece of paper or fabric, with the text overlaid on it. The background is a textured, light-colored surface.

Before we got on the bus for kindergarten, we were all excited about entering school for the very first time. But as we grew, we realized that it was not as big a deal as we originally thought. Then we graduated to Elementary School. Again, we realized it was not that big a deal, and we found ourselves more mature than we used to be. Then we made our most recent transition; we came to Junior High. Some of us have two years left and some have but a few months. As we make our move to High School, we can't help but wonder if it will be as impressionable as it seems now, or if it is merely the next step.

Only experience.

Each of us in publications can agree that putting together a yearbook is tons of hard work, dedication, and cooperation. Everyone put all their effort into making this yearbook Greenspun's best ever. Although at times our class was hectic, it was the extra time spent after school sometimes until six or seven PM that have made this yearbook what it is.

We have learned how to work together to produce something real.

Melanie and Micki's eighth grade section is outstanding, and its quality proves that perseverance pays off. Tanna's knowledge on the computers made every page as perfect as possible. Jan's awesome artistic abilities added to the talents of our class, while Chelsea and Chris spent countless hours after school wrestling with the wonders of modern publications technology. But it was our combined efforts that make us proud to present Vol. VIII of Greenspun's memory book.

When the sixth graders came to this school they didn't know what to expect. They were excited, but they were also a little scared. They were afraid that they weren't going to remember where their classes or their lockers were. But now, they've matured and adapted to Junior High.

Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Wightman enjoying one of the few quiet moments in the deans lair.

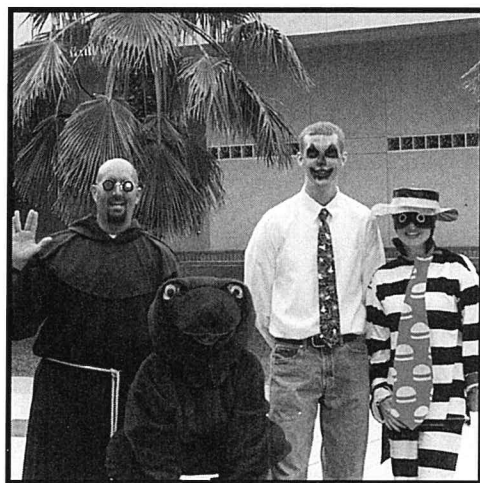

Mrs. Vuckovic just clownin' around!

Mr. Fisher in trouble again, not just hangin' with the D.A.R.E. teacher.

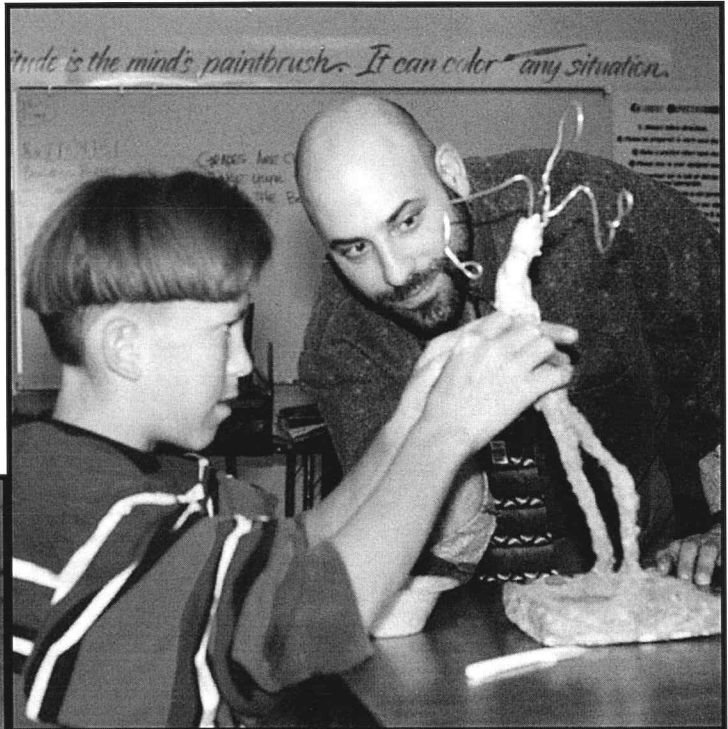

Today's menu ... Meatloaf!

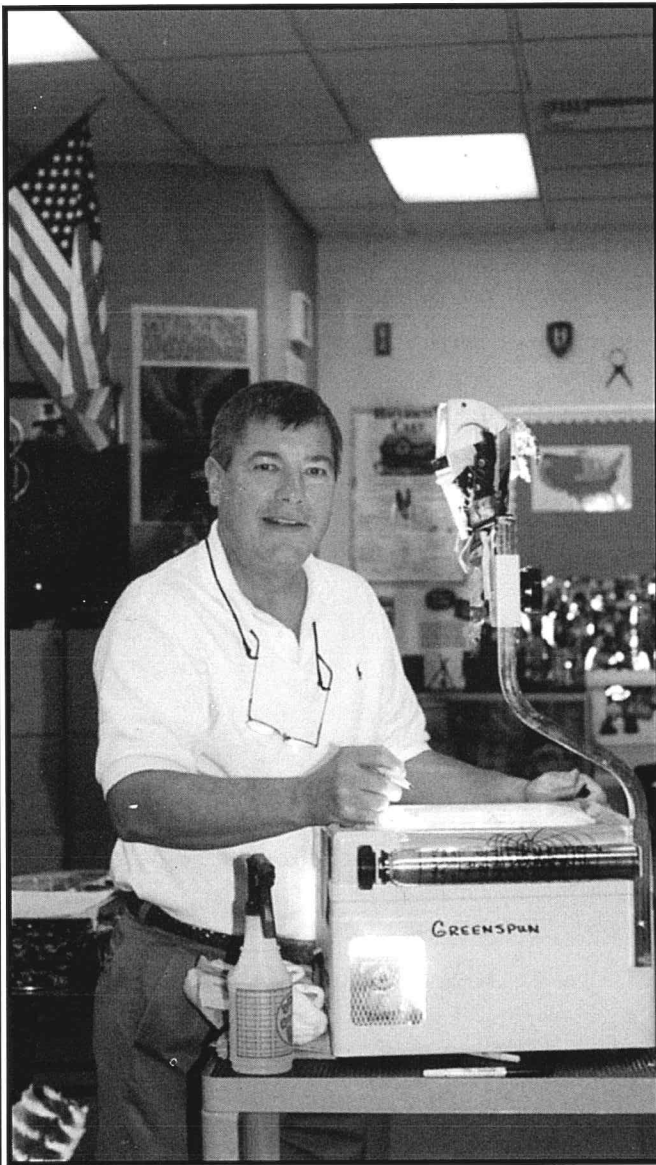

Mr. Fisher, Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. Slocum, and Ms. Richards having fun around Halloween.

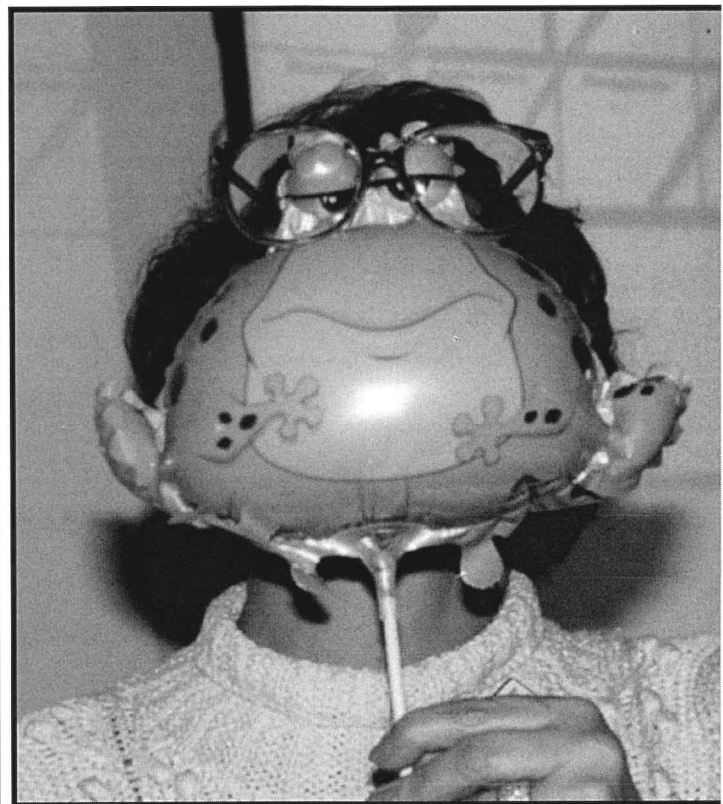

Ms. Miller, just one of the guys.

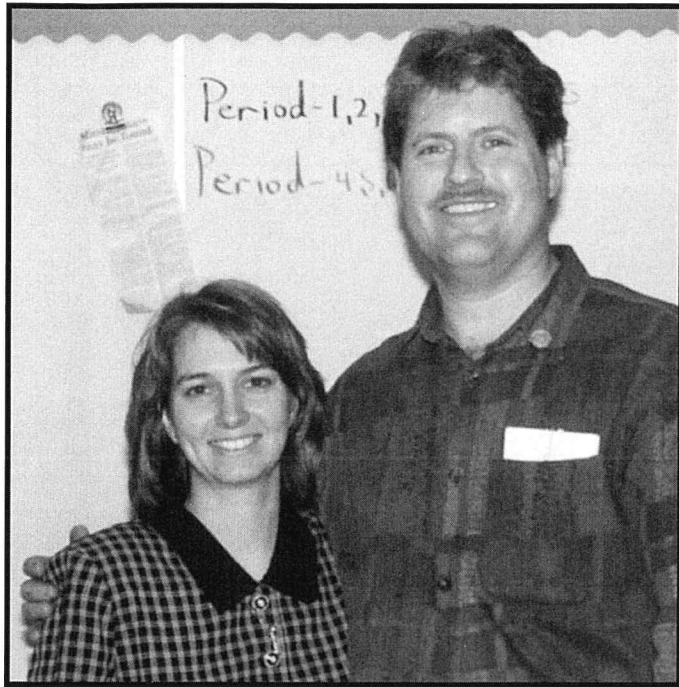

Mr. G lending a helping hand.

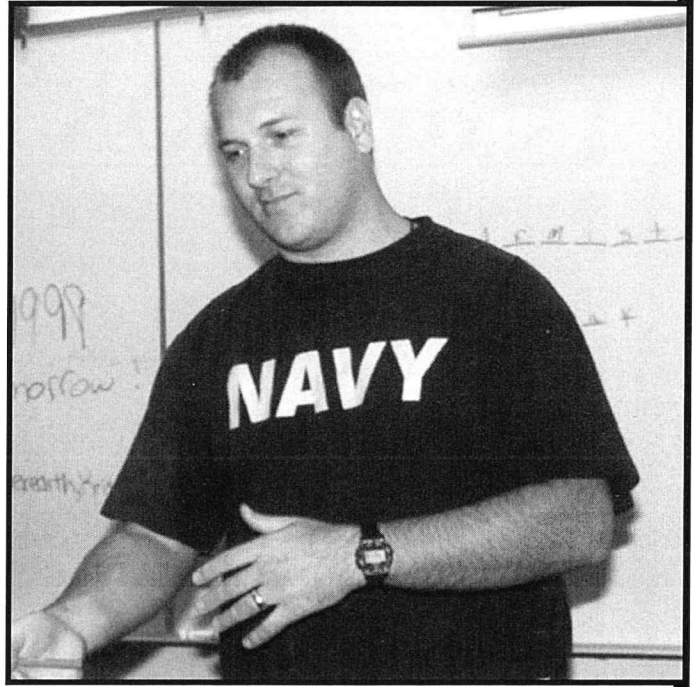

Mr. Boshko always ready to teach.

Mrs. Armstrong without her make up! Just kidding.

This class deserves all of the credit for the wonderful newspapers that we get once a month during our fifth period. They have to work night and day and don't have any time to play around. This is one of the most talented classes Mr. Kimball has ever taught. He is very proud of his newspaper publication class.
